

SPRING 2017

Computer Science Special Topics

CS 491-1 / CS 350-1

Monday, Wednesday, Friday
10:00 - 10:50 AM
EGRA 208

Instructor – Tessema Mengistu

Web Application Development

A comprehensive introduction to languages and tools used to create client side and server side Web applications. Topics include, but are not limited to, markup languages, scripting languages, page style and layout designs, dynamic web pages, processing forms, server side technologies, and database access.

Prerequisites: CS 202 (grade of “C” or better) or approval of instructor.

Textbook: Sebesta, Robert W., Programming the World Wide Web, 8th edition, Pearson, 2014, ISBN: 9780133354690.